

WU-TRANS

2019

WU-TRANS is part of TBD'C's ongoing hacked apparel line BAFFALO, which reappropriates and reworks well-known logos through practices of bootlegging and détournement. Starting from the iconic Wu-Tang Clan logo, this work transforms a symbol historically associated with masculinity and, at times, homophobic attitudes into a new queer and transfeminist motto.

Displayed as a sculptural object, the t-shirt is worn by the pedestal rather than a body, together with two shoulder pads, reversing conventions of display and authorship, fashion and sculpture.

Selected exhibitions:

- * After Language for La Fete du Slip, Urgent Paradise, Lausanne, 2022
- * BODY LANGUAGE, FUORI Quadriennale d'Arte di Roma, Palazzo delle Esposizioni, Rome, 2020-2021
- * BAFFALO, EU EU, Milan, 2020

WU-TRANS, 2019

Screen-printed t-shirt, pedestal, two shoulder pads

WU-TRANS, installation view, FUORI Quadriennale d'Arte, Palazzo delle Esposizioni, Rome, 2020-2021