Synopsis:

After exploring butch4butch BDSM dynamics in their 2020 film American Pornography, filmmaker Gen Kuzak delves into trans fag sexuality with their latest work, The French Boys. A narrator is masturbating as they fall asleep... and in their dreams, Kuzak creates a space where actors can compose, freely, allowing them to show on screen what can't be performed: vulnerability. By staging a real-life couple, The French Boys transcends the idea of sexuality as a performance or physical aesthetics, allowing us to be the witness of how love expresses itself.

Brightly light, minimal staging, and absolute freedom on screen, The French Boys is a new kind of hybrid, showing that sex can be raw and direct, and still be extremely moving, perfectly illustrating that fisting is an act of love.
